L. L. L. Club Entertained.

The young ladies club was delightfully entertained last Tuesday afternoon by Miss Nettie Flournoy in honor of Miss Saphronia Brannen, of Troy, and Miss Minnie McCaskill, of DeFuniak Springs, Fla.

It was in the nature of a "porch party" and five tables were arranged for the dominoes. Score cards were passed and the guests entered enthusiastically in the game. Delightful refreshments were served.

Those enjoying Miss Flournoy's hospitality were Misses Eunora and Ethel Harris, Maud Hickman, Jessie Hutchison, Essie Rowe, Olive Rainer, Jessie Ham, Claudine Rushing, Cleo Bryan, Pearl Hutchison, Ada Law, Zedie Rowe, Saphronia Brannen, Minnie McCaskill, and Mrs. J. O. English.

Misses Farris' Entertain.

Misses Ethel, Eunora and Bessie Farris entertained very delightfully last Friday evening in honor of Miss Hutchison from Florida. The guests were invited into the dining room where fruit punch was served by Miss Ethel Farris. They then retired to the parlor to enjoy music and games or sought the delightful breezes on the porch.

The guests were requested to write a very unique little romance which proved quite interesting when read. Delicious cakes and ices were served at the conclusion of the evening.

Those present were, Misses Saphronia Brannen, Nettie Flournoy, Ada Law, Bonnie Bullard, Alice Boyd, Sue Rainer, Ollie Bonneau, Jessie Hutchison, Maud Hickman, Cleo Bryan, Essie Rowe and Zelma Rowe, and Messers George Lindsey, Laula Pope, Steve Ham, Virgil Elmore, Renzo Bryan, Oates Rowe, Josie Brooks, Willie Jacobs, Horace Brock, Conroy Mays, Howard Blue and Jesse Blocker.

Mrs. Sanders Dead.

Last Thursday, Mrs. C. I. Sanders died after an illness of several days, at the home of son, Mr. J. M. Sanders, about ten miles below Elba.

Mrs. Sanders was a good woman and her death will be deplored. She leaves a husband and several children. The funeral took place Friday at Bethlehem church about six miles below Elba. Our sympathies go out to the bereaved ones.

Caught Big Bunch Of Crap Shooters.

Deputy Ross McBryde, with the assistance of two other deputized officers, raided a big crap game near China Grove Sunday morning about 2:30 o'clock and captured many negroes. In all twenty-eight negroes were captured as a result of the raid.

Deputy McBryde states that it looked as if a whole hillside was covered with crap games. All of the negroes made bond except one.

Work on the two new stores of W. B. Perdue is nearing completion. They are nice buildings and will add considerably to the works of the town.

Looking That Way.

Governor Comer evidently thought something by taking his time in answering Judge Jones' article in the Advertiser. Mr. Comer went over his figures closely, and weighed his word well, and he thought so much of that article till he had one of the plate makers to get out some plates of the speech to supply to the smaller editors free, over the state.

Yes, it does look like the Governor wants to go down and live in Montgomery, and occupy a real governor's mansion for once.

Or it may be, that he wants to make Senator Johnson stick closer to the base. The Senator has been taking a good many chances, playing off, here since this Lorimer business came up, and he isn't standing so well with the people of Alabama as he did before he endorsed Lorimer's character, making it possible, he and a few other Democrats, for that man to remain in the United States Senate.

It is rather early yet for any forward business to be started up of a political nature, but we predict things will be hot within six months.

From Beat 15.

Some sickness in this community.

Mr. Rufus Adams died Monday, July 19, and was buried at Zion Chapel cemetery on Tuesday.

A few days ago Mr. Henry Dean (better known as "Chick") was riding old Jinney (his mule) home from the field, he passed under some oak trees in the front yard and his hat touched some of the limbs which gave Jinney a scare and she began bucking. Henry was thrown up among the limbs and when he came down turned a complete summersault and fell on some roots, bruising his face and arm very badly. For several days he was unable to work. Now the funny part was that after Jinney got through bucking, she turned around and looked back at Henry, who said, "Yes, Jinney this is me. Don't you know me?" She then went slowly on to the lot and left Henry lying on the ground.

A good many of our boys went to Victoria to sing last Sunday. F. M. Dean has gone into the lower part of the county to teach singing schools. He will be gone two or three weeks.

Mrs. M. E. Jordan, Genie and Bessie Partin, of Banks, are visiting relatives and friends in this settlement. Still-in-Hope.

Dodson's Liver-Tone

Instead of Calomel.

Just as Sure—Always Safe—No Bad Effects Ever Follow This Pleasant Tasting Liquid.

As a remedy for a torpid liver Calomel has more than met its match in Dodson's Liver-Tone. It does not lash the liver on to perform its work at the cost of its strength.

Calomel depends on its power upon exciting the liver to do more work, and often the liver is too weak to stand such treatment, and you are worse off than before.

Dodson's Liver-Tone cannot cause any of the dangerous effects that often follow the use of calomel. It is entirely vegetable and pleasant to the taste, and suitable for children and grown people.

Get a 50c bottle at Elba Drug Co. under the guarantee that if it doesn't satisfy you that it is a perfect substitute for calomel you get your money back.

NEW COTTON PEST.

Strange Bug Appears in Perry County.

From Marion Standard.

Mr. Stone, of East Perry, brought to this office the first of the week a new bug that has made its appearance and is playing havoc with the cotton farms in his section. Mr. Stone says he has seven acres that they have virtually ruined and that he has examined several farms in his community where he found the pests equally as vigorous. The Standard mailed the bugs to the State Commissioner of Agriculture and below we print his reply:

Mr. Chas. H. Greer, Marion, Ala. June 21st, 1911.

Dear Sir: We have your letter of 20th, also the bottle of bugs and the punctured cotton squares. We cannot determine the name of the bug, as it is something entirely new, so we are sending it to the State Entomologist at Auburn, asking his judgment. As soon as we receive reply from him, will forward same to you. It appears from the damage already done it is worse than the dreaded boll weevil. I trust however that it is some passing bug that will soon leave the neighborhood. However as soon as we hear from Auburn, will forward reply to you.

Yours very truly
R. F. KOLB, Com.

Fred E. Allen, who has been night chief operator for the Southern New England Telephone company, is dead at a hospital at New Haven, Conn. He was the first operator in the New Haven exchange in 1877, and as this was the first exchange to be established in the world, he was the oldest operator to be working on an exchange board in the world. He was 52 years old.

By a vote of two to one Huntsville Ala., decided to change the city government from aldermanic form to commission form, prescribed for Class D cities of Alabama by the Kilby commission law. Three commissioners appointed by the governor will be placed in charge of affairs within the next thirty days. Huntsville is the first city in the state to apply the Kilby law.

Four of the cases have occurred since January 1. Five hundred dollars will be paid in each case for the capture of the assassin.

ELBA, ALA., JUNE 27, 1911.

Two of Alabama's living ex-governors are right good sources of newspaper copy. If the others were as good producers of stuff to print as are Jones and Comer the Alabama newspapers would never run short on copy.

The Birmingham Age-Herald's Hotel Lobbies department did not have a single item attacking prohibition Monday. The writer must have overlooked it, for it is the first time in a long time that we've noticed such omission. The Barleymen Boys certainly have a fast friend in the Age-Herald's Hotel Lobbies writer, almost as loyal as poor old Max Hamburger was. 'Tis sad.

We do not believe that Alabama is to have gubernatorial and senatorial politics soon. Some papers seem to think so. They must have slipped a cog in their reasoning. In 1912 no senatorial or gubernatorial primary comes. The candidate for governor or senator who would be foolish enough to mix up with the campaign of 1912 as a start to the one when he would be voted upon in 1914 would most likely be sent to a great institution at Tuscaloosa. No, we won't have any avowed candidates for governor or senator till after the campaign of 1912 is over.

Judge Jones is no doubt hard at work on his reply to Gov. Comer. Neither is a young man. Gov. Comer probably has four or five years the advantage of Judge Jones. So he will no doubt have the last say. Jones has a good job, with excellent pay, a life job; so he can afford to take the time for the writing of his offshoots (though) he is not in active politics so that the popularity he may or may not gain will not place him in line for reward by the people. But Comer, he is in politics, and will be for some time. He has means and can take ample time to write Jones up with great pains. Then if the people should want to elect him to office, he has that advantage in the way. So he has that advantage of the Judge.

Says the Greensboro Watchman:

Isn't it curious that it is always the man who opposes prohibition that finds out what a awful number of blind tigers exist in prohibition territory and bewails the demoralizing influence thereof? And these same fellows can see more drunken men in a prohibition town or city in a day than the real prohibitionist sees in a week. There is a reason, and that reason is they want whiskey to flow freely and unobstructed in other words sold openly and above board, where the traffic can be flouted in the faces and nostrils of all the people whenever they have occasion to go on the 'street'. The blind tiger is a very undesirable animal, but he is far preferable in his lair hidden away from the sight of people, to the open-eyed beast, and is not half so dangerous and objectionable.

Ticklebreaches.

On Pink Route 1, fails to send his train with his letter. We have to get real name along with letters to paper. We do not print the real name unless writer so desires.

For thrush use Hanford's Balsam.

The Calamity Howler.

A dog sat out in the midnight chill and howled at the beaming moon; his knowledge of music was strictly nil and his voice was out of tune. And he howled and howled as the hours went by, while dodging the bricks we throw, till the moon was low in the western sky, and his voice was split into. And there wasn't a thing at which to howl over which a pup should weep, and the course of the dog was wrong and foul, for the people were wild to sleep. There are plenty of men like that blamed fool hound, who yell when there's nothing wrong, disturbing the country with senseless sound—the pessimist's doleful song—Fairplay Flume.

From A Farmer.

Come a letter with news in it. We can't print it, for real name of writer is not inclosed. Please send in your real name, for us to see, otherwise the letter has to go in the waste basket.

For foul use Hanford's Balsam.

GOVERNMENT DEFAUDED

Customs Agents Discover Cutlery

Crookedness in Imports.

A Washington dispatch says: Frauds amounting to several millions of dollars in duties on imports of cutlery during the last few years have been discovered by secret agents of the customs service, who, under the direction of Chief Wilkie, have been working quietly in this country and in the Zollverein district of Germany, whence most of the imports come to the United States.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh began the investigation several months ago, but as it is not completed, it was not said what action might be taken to recover the duties of which it is alleged the government has been defrauded. Neither is it known if there would be criminal prosecution.

Customs authorities say the peculiar construction of the cutlery schedule of the tariff have given opportunity for immense frauds on comparatively small undervaluations. A seizure of cutlery made in New York on Saturday illustrates that fact. On forty-three cases of cutlery entered as having a valuation of $10,242 an undervaluation of only $868 was found, but on that one case the government had been defrauded of $3,397 in duties. The duty on cutlery is very high.

"Pardon me for committing suicide in your house," read a note found on Frank McDonald, of Pittsburgh, Pa. who shot himself in the home of Mrs. Anna Mann, his boarding mistress. He had been discharged from a downtown restaurant and was despondent.

John Childs and Joe Gesick died at a hospital at Terre Haute from wounds inflicted on each other in a shotgun duel Saturday. The men each fired a charge into the other's face.

Arthur Watters, aged 10 years, shot his 14-year-old brother, John Watters, in the head with a parlor rifle that he thought was unloaded, and he died at Mobile, Ala. The skull was fractured.

Henry Jones, of Cobb county, was drowned in the Etowah river near Cartersville, Ga., Sunday while in bathing with a large number of friends. His body was recovered.

The senate of New York state passed the Grady bill, which requires that every editorial in newspapers shall be signed after September 1, next.

Four convicts were killed, fourteen others injured and three guards slightly injured by the collapse of the bull pen in which they were housed in a mountain pass in North Carolina.

The entertainment and kindness of the Leverett community is well known, and it was at its best Saturday.

THREATS OF DEATH.

For Informers Who, It Is Alleged, Betrayed Companions.

A dispatch from Memphis, Minn., says: Threats of death for the men who betrayed their companions and permitted detectives to lay a trap for them at Pupok, when three robbers were captured while attempting to rob the postoffice safe, were received by D. T. Dumas, mayor of Cass Lake, with being a member of the robber gang, and with having planned many other similar crimes. Detectives in search of "Mike" Davis, who, although wounded in the fight at Pupok, escaped, have found evidence that a third man was hiding in the woods with a horse and buggy, and that the robbers escaped in this manner. At Cass Lake this afternoon it was found that a safe which the detectives asserted contained nitroglycerin, and burglars' tools was shipped on the day of the Dumas arrest to a known but unnamed destination, and it is to be traced and opened. Dr. Dumas returned to Cass Lake to attend his patients and to look after his duties as mayor.

GENERAL NEWS. Four hundred and forty-one square feet of strawberry shortcake furnished the piece de resistance at the Sunday dinner for inmates of the Marion, Ohio, state hospital. The bakers at the institution assert the cake is the biggest one on record. It was twenty-one feet square and made up of two layers, for which several hundred pounds of flour were required, and between them five quarts of berries, picked in the hospital garden, were placed. Seven men were required to convey this great delicacy to the dining room table, where 1,800 patients dined on it with fifty gallons of milk.

James B. Hammond, millionaire inventor, hopes to escape business cares for the remainder of his life by sailing from New York on July 1 on a cruise that is planned to last twenty-eight years, or until he is 100 years old. Despite his 72 years, Mr. Hammond visits the ship yards daily and is personally in charge of the preparation for the trip, which is to be made in a new yacht, the Lounger II, which he designed himself and intends to present after his death to the Smithsonian institution as a model of marine architecture.

Three charred volumes of the revolutionary records of South Carolina which escaped the capitol fire at Albany, N. Y., were received at Columbia, S. C., by the South Carolina Historical commission. The records, which comprise three volumes of the minutes of the commission in charge of the navy of South Carolina during the revolution, were returned under a special act of the New York legislature. Three boys were buried to death when the livery stable of Vance Jewett, of Sagamore, near Kittanning, Pa., was destroyed by fire. The dead are: Earl Jewett, aged 12; Jesse Jewett, aged 10, and Hugh Flanigan, aged 14, a companion of the Jewett boys. The lads spent Saturday night in Pittsburgh. Returning home late, they slept in the livery stable.

Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed a block of buildings in Hazelton, Pa., causing $125,000 loss. The flames originated in the livery and boarding stable of J. Elmer Bitler. The paint shop of the Western Bros. carriage works and four dwellings were also destroyed.

A Cleveland, O., dispatch says: The disappearance of the desperadoes of Homer W. Messenger, a trustee of the National Order of Railway Mail Clerks, who left home to go fishing, was partly cleared up when his body was found in Rocky river. Messenger was alone on the fishing trip, and how he was drowned remains unexplained. Roy Roberts, an electrician, of Birmingham, Ala., was drowned in the Tennessee river at Hale's bar when the craft capsized. Roberts sank and did not come to the surface. His body was found an hour later. The other man, whose name could not be learned, swam to shore.

OHIO BRIBERY TRIALS.

Legislative Craft Probe to Be Again Pushed in Columbus Courts.

The second bribery trial scandal resulting from the investigation of alleged grafting in the state legislature began at Columbus, Ohio, before Judge E. B. Kinkaid, in common pleas court, with the examination of veniremen to secure a jury to try Roger Diehl, sergeant-at-arms, accused of aiding the soliciting of a bribe from Detective Burns.

Diehl was jointly indicted with Senator James R. Andrews, whose trial will follow. The biggest fight in the case is expected to come when the defense and state clash over the admissibility of the "dictagraph" evidence. Prosecutors Attorney E. C. Turner expects to ask that the jury be sequestered together near the court house during the trial instead of being permitted to go home each night. Attorney General Hogan will assist prosecuting Attorney Turner in handling the case for the state.

The first trial, that of State Representative George B. Nye, of Pike county, resulted in Nye's acquittal.

ROYAL BANQUET AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE

$15,000,000 In Gold Plate on the Tables.

GRAND SHAKESPEARIAN BALL

English People Are Spending Money Lavishly in the Crowning of King George and Queen Mary.

A London dispatch says: The most regal banquet place of king or emperor ever witnessed and a gorgeous Shakespearian ball tonight under the auspices of noted society leaders stand forth as shining features of the second day of coronation week. The banquet in Buckingham palace tonight was a scene of imperial grandeur, so far as the assembly of royal and eminent personages, the setting of costly magnificence and the beautiful decorations could combine to make it.

The king and queen entertained the visiting and English royalty, all the special foreign delegations, the foreign ambassadors and ministers, the officers of state and the household, the members of the cabinet and members of the cabinet, the heads of the church and judiciary and of the army and navy.

The two largest apartments in the palace, the ball room and the picture gallery, which adjoin, were utilized as a banquet hall. On the tables were displayed the royal gold plate used only on historic occasions, the cost of which is estimated at $15,000,000, and the weight eight tons. This plate, for the most part, was collected in the reigns of the four Georges, and the principal piece is a massive peacock captured in one of the Indian wars, whose tail is studded with diamonds. Cut glass worth a fortune, ivory decanters hundreds of years old and wines dating back more than a century were on the board.

The gallery holds more than 800 pictures. The decorations of both rooms are largely gilt, and this background was embellished with banks of palms and giant lilies, white orchids, roses and ferns were stacked on the tables. Women of the guard ranged about the walls, and all the diners wore their richest uniforms, decorations, gowns and jewels.

I cannot "add anything to what has been said" on the road question but we have been talking the matter over and planning to work with the tools we have—not the "goose neck" hoes and "scotters" but with mules and plows. The plow may not "work" to the extent of putting good roads in all sections of the county but if the tools are bought they will be used.

The present plan of working the roads might be called the "Inoperative" from the results gained. I have seen twenty men following one little mule along the road stirring a little dirt here and there and actually claiming the roads had been worked! If we would only stop such foolishness, get together and work the roads as we do our farms—with mules and plows—we could have good roads even if the commissioners do not furnish tools and machines.

One of the greatest drawbacks to farming in the south is lack of improved machinery. If we would get out the stumps and use barrows and cultivators we could make larger crops with much less labor than we now use. One man here cut and shocked over ten acres of oats per day and in five days saved an oat crop he could never have saved by man power alone.

The burial of Mr. Dan Hutchison here at the family cemetery last Friday brought together an immense throng of relatives and friends to pay the last tributes of respect to the dead. Rev. D. P. Lee of Elba conducted the services. Mr. Hutchison was a man of large affairs, a citizen interested and active in public affairs and he will be greatly missed by his people.

Mr. Andrew Meads and wife of Clintonville visited the latter's brother, George Crowley, here recently.

Henry Thomas and John Quinly took advantage of the special rate to new subscribers and handed the writer their dollars on subscription. "Uncle Henry" owns a good farm here and has some of the finest corn we have seen. John believes in living at home and will soon be eating sweet potatoes and water melons out of his own patch.

Mr. D. J. McRee of Brundidge spent a few days here last week with his daughter, Mrs. Weaver. Mrs. Pink Crowley has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Blackman several days.

Mr. Moore left last week on a visit to the big old state of Texas. The popular merchant and postmaster, J. L. Brock, hid away to Pine View last Sunday with his family and spent the day at J. T. Henderson's.

The people hereabout have had some fine showers lately. We've had no drought to grumble at any way as the grass up here has a drought beaten several blocks.

Some gentlemen from somewhere and possibly somewhere else, have been engaged in the mainly and enjoyable sport of dynamiting for fish along the river. We suppose these same gentlemen will be cutting down their peach trees to get the fruit. Wont have a crop next year? Yes but darn next year's crop.

Mrs. Blum and children of Greenville, S. C., are visiting Mr. J. P. Hutchison.

Editor Clipper:—

I am pleased to give you another visit.

Mr. Joe Floyd is dangerously sick again.

Crops of this community are needing rain, corn especially.

Mr. O. N. Cook is visiting at Florala.

Mr. W. O. Carnley and family, Mrs. Minnie Grimes, Miss Missouri Grimes and Mrs. B. R. Ballard attended the big mason day at Levert Saturday the 24th.

All had a good time and enjoyed an able address by Hon. J. M. Hickman, of Elba.

Mr. J. O. Carnley and wife visited their son and family Saturday night. Mrs. Minnie L. Carnley is very sick.

Well I cannot close my letter without saying something about our traveling petition, as it faced me with a cunning smile again yesterday. You presented by a married man, and a lawful voter, a man who has a family and depending wholly for their support on him.

Dear voter, we can allow for a single man on this question, for he has no little responsibilities pulling around him.

But a married man, to sign, and carry such a petition among his friends, I feel like he has not carefully considered the danger he is forcing upon his little home and good friends.

An obstinate man does not hold opinions, but they hold him; for when he is once possessed of an error, it is like a devil, only cast out with great difficulty. Whatsoever he lays hold on, like a drowning man, he never looses, though it but helps to sink him the sooner.

Narrowness of mind is the cause of obstinacy. We do not easily believe what is beyond our sight. There are few, very few, that will own themselves in a mistake. Obstinacy is a barrier to improvement. Whoever perversely resolves to adhere to plans or opinions, be they right or be they wrong, because such plans and opinions have been already adopted by them, raises an impenetrable bar to conviction and information. To be open to conviction, speaks a wise mind, an amiable character. Human nature is so frail and so ignorant, so liable to misconception, that none but the most incorrigibly vain can pertinaciously determine to abide by self-suggested sentiments, unsanctioned by the experience or the judgement of others, as only the most incurably foolish can be satisfied with the extent of their knowledge.

The wiser we are, the more we are aware of our ignorance. Who ever resolves not to alter his measures, shuts himself out from all possibility of improvement, and must die, as he lives, ignorant, or at best but imperfectly informed.

Perhaps I am saying too much on this subject, but be not angry that you cannot make others as you wish them to be, since you cannot make yourself what you wish to be.

Remember bad money cannot circulate through the veins and arteries of trade, so our county cannot prosper on the strength of bar rooms and saloons. Oh! why should it be indulged in at all. Society was often dragged down to low standards by indulging people when this county was controlled by bar rooms, but now, thank God, we are living in a high standard of improvement and are having peace at home, and at society, so why should we, by our support, bring back that deluded, restless rector to tear down our happy castle, which we happily built since we became boss of our county instead of saloons?

We must candidly hear all that can be said on both sides, then, and only then, can we in such bases hope to determine wisely; but we must firmly sustain our rights.

I would like to hear beat 14—yes brother P. T., give us your best. With many wishes to brother farmers, I am still, Farmer.

The first school of whales sighted off the Delaware capes in a decade was seen basking in the sunshine down there Saturday waiting for a skilful seagoneer hunter, according to passengers on the liner Seneca. Forty whales were counted by the Seneca's officers, a record for coastwise whale-seeing craft.

The steamer Ypsilanti, with General Porfirio Diaz on board, arrived at Plymouth, Eng., from Santander and proceeded for Havre. General Diaz did not land. Captain West, of the British navy, boarded the steamer when Patterson's automobile skidded and turned turtle, pinning the men underneath on the Goslen road, two miles south of Elkhart, Ind. The party was on its way to Cleveland.

A terrific typhoon devastated the coast and, according to reports received at Tokio, Japan, hundreds of fishing boats have been sunk with heavy loss of life. The storm has swept inland and is said to have destroyed several small towns. It is believed that at least 200 have been killed.

Heinrich Humfeld, a bricklayer, whose home was in Hoboken, N. J., fell off the new smokestack at the gas works at Charleston, S. C., being hurled violently head first to the ground, a distance of 70-odd feet below. Death was almost instantaneous.

Fire destroyed the sawmill, planing mill and lumber yards of the Lee Lumber Company, at Tloga, La., five miles north of Alexandria. The yards contained several million feet of lumber, which was entirely destroyed. The loss will reach $275,000 with about $200,000 insurance.

Dr. David Jayne Hill, who recently resigned his post as American ambassador to Germany, left for Kiel to present his letters of recall to Emperor William. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg gave a dinner in honor of the retiring diplomat.

Damage estimated at $100,000 to $250,000 is estimated to have been caused by a severe wind, rain and electric storm at Danville, Va. The heaviest damage was to buildings in the business section. The city was isolated.

The new pamphlet containing all the public school laws now in force in Alabama has just gone from the printer. Anyone wishing to secure a copy of this pamphlet will please send SIX CENTS in stamps to cover postage to Hon. H. J. Williamson, State Superintendent of Education, Montgomery, Ala. Yours very truly,

C. H. Byrd,

County Superintendent of Education.
